

New Bodleian Library

CASE STUDY

Location: South

M&E Contractor: M J Lonsdale

Main Contractor: Hurley Palmer
Flatt

Consultant: Long & Partners

BMS System Installed: Trend

Value of Contract: £375,000

Completion: August 2014

PROJECT FEATURES

- Separate Power DB's & CE's controlling heating
- Cooling & Ventilation Plant
- Close control CRAC units
- FCU's & chilled beams throughout the floors linked to the existing Oxford University site wide BMS network

The Grade II-listed building Weston Library, formally known as New Bodleian Library, is the main research library of the University of Oxford, on the corner of Broad Street and Parks Road in central Oxford, England. The refurbished facility houses the special collections held by Oxford University Library services